Patton: You one book of Whitewash arrived in best Condition. I was very delighted with your autograph and want to send you my very best thanks for it. I have really dug in with great zeal into your book and as soon as I have disgested it all you'll hear from me. With today's mail I am sending to my former professor in Budapest who now lives in Schorndorf, Wurtenburg, a synopsis of the edition of your book. He is a publisher of magazines and also of articles about the exodus and the fate of Hungarians of German descent afyer the second world war. I wrote yo you in German because I can master that better than English. I am also enclosing, etc.
